

CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

I, _____ (Buyer) on behalf of myself and/or as an agent for a prospective Buyer, and/or of any individual, any formed or to be formed corporation, partnership or limited liability company, and binding any prospective Buyer to whom I may advise the name and location, do agree to keep confidential the name and location of any dealership discussed with me by _____ (Seller) as being available for purchase. Should I (and/or my client) enter into negotiations as to a purchase, we agree to keep all financial statements and/or other documents furnished us in confidence and to return those documents and all copies thereof, if a purchase is not completed. We acknowledge we can furnish such information only to my (my client's) legal and accounting advisors for their professional guidance. They will be bound by this agreement and must return such documents and all copies. We will not discuss the name and location any representative of the manufacturer, with any bank representative or with any other person until a purchase agreement has been signed or the Seller gives us consent.
